It may seem harder to get your students or athletes to perform consistently at a high level. In reality, the standards for performance can be higher IF you can get through to build a deep and genuine connection.

Join Theresa “Tree” Beeckman, founder and president of Tree Roots LLS, a service dedicated to enhancing the lives of coaches and athletes from youth to professional levels of play. Tree is a respected leader, author, clinician and speaker who consults for coaches throughout the country. She has experienced the changes in this generation of parents and their children and has exhaustively studied the shifts that need to be made in order to lead them. She helps educators connect with their students, and coaches with their athletes by using Habitudes, which are images that help form leadership habits and attitudes. She’ll connect and inspire educators, students, athletes and coaches through her unique and energetic approach to team building and personal development.

Mark your calendars, you won’t want to miss it!
