Our Nation's Tribute to Mary . . .

America pays tribute to its Queen,
Raises a symbol of towering faith
High above an atmosphere of materialism;
From all parts of the United States
And distant parts of the world,
Visitors come to know her virtue,
Her power, and her help
At the National Shrine
Of the Immaculate Conception.

The National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D. C., dedicated November 20, 1959, represents over 30 years of labor on the part of American Catholics. The church is the largest in size in the United States and ranks among the seven largest in the world.

. . . Toward a Better World

Piety and patriotism strengthen moral character and loyalty in youth and the nation. Participating in the flag-raising at the Blessed Mother's shrine are Catherine Ottney, Elizabeth Packard, James Horvath, Warren Smith, William Theisen, and Suzanne Fortino.

His Holiness, Pope John XXIII

Shortly after Pope John XXIII assumed the office of Vicar of Christ, he announced the convocation of the twenty-first Ecumenical Council. In so doing, he called the world to a program of peace and unity among all followers of Christ.

In his first Christmas message to the world, the Pope stressed the theme of Church unity in these words: "Unity alone and solid foundations for the strengthening of the Apostolic Truth and of true human and Christian Brotherhood will be able to check the grave dangers that overhang the world."

Priests Teach, Strengthen Apostolic Truth

Groundbreaking ceremonies take place for the Catholic Student Chapel at Central Michigan University as Bishop Allen J. Babcock turns the first spadeful of dirt. Present at the ceremonies are (FRONT) Monsignor Edward N. Alt, Reverend Father Hugh King, CMU President Judson W. Foust, Reverend Father John N. McDuffee, chaplain of the Student Chapel, (BACK) Doctor Wilbur E. Moore, Mr. Woodward C. Smith, Reverend Father Raymond Moeggenberg, Mr. Bernard Toney, Doctor D. Louise Sharp, Miss Helen Johnson, Doctor Charles L. Anspach, Mr. Joseph Carey, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hartman.

His Excellency, the Most Reverend Allen J. Babcock, Bishop of Grand Rapids.

The faculty of Sacred Heart Academy is more than a group of dedicated instructors.

The teachers possess interest not only in the mental attainments of their students but also an awareness of the importance of spirituality in their lives. By high professional standards, the faculty achieve success for the students in their studies, social activities, and personal living.

Students recognize the qualifications and experience of their leaders. The community esteems their service and guidance.

In short, the faculty, religious and lay, make Sacred Heart Academy a place where youth may grow, mentally, spiritually, physically, and socially.

Sister Mary Agnes Leo, O.P.
Principal, instructor of Latin I and II, and promoter of home and school relations.

Sister Mary Faith, O.P.

The maintenance and cafeteria staffs are a pair of efficient teams who carry out their respective duties promptly and satisfactorily.

The faithful custodians keep the Academy a clean, comfortable, and pleasant place for students.

The cafeteria staff provides nourishing and appetizing noon lunches for growing boys and girls.

Mr. Wilfred Martin, son Harry, and Mrs. Martin set a record of service.

Faculty, Home and School Promote Good Will

Mrs. John Quinlan
Office Secretary

The Academy has different groups working together for its various interests. One of these is the Home and School Association.

The Home and School organization is in its second year with a program designed to promote good relations between faculty, parents, and students.

Its 1959-60 agenda includes speakers, panel discussion, family entertainment, and a carnival.

The officers of the Home and School Association are: Mrs. Sam Williams, president, Mr. Vol Courtright, father vice-president, Mrs. Richard Wolcott, mother vice-president, Mrs. Roger White, recording secretary, Mrs. Monica Pruden, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Boyd Webster, treasurer.

Mrs. R. Wolcott, vice-president, Mrs. R. White, recording secretary, Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt, Mrs. T. Williams, president, Mr. F. Horgan, chairman of finances, and Mr. V. Courtright, vice-president, consider financial report.

Maintenance and Cafeteria Staffs Serve Well

Ready for another busy day are Mrs. Jean McEvoy, Mrs. Esther Spitsbergen, Miss Cecile Neff, Mrs. Evelyn Connors, and Mrs. Mae McDonnell.

Mrs. Esther Spitsbergen and Miss Cecile Neff make a tasty dessert.

Mrs. Jean McEvoy, Mrs. Evelyn Connors, and Mrs. Mae McDonnell prepare sandwiches.

This is the main altar of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. Adorning the wall is a huge mosaic of Christ, one of the largest and most colorful in the world.

To keep an apostolic sense
Of mission, purpose, and direction;
To make the virtue of love
The hallmark on all actions;
To see behind space secrets One alone,
Who is the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

Sodality co-prefect Karen Campbell hands a wreath to prefect William Rush to crown Mary Queen of the May.

Youth Pray Together

The center of the Liturgy of the Church is the Mass. It consists of a two-fold aspect of love: giving and receiving.

The laity assist at the Holy Sacrifice daily and receives grace from the Mass and the reception of Holy Communion.

For the first time, a noon Mass enables all high school students to attend. Students make their participation more complete by congregational singing.

Immediately after the words of consecration, Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt elevates the Sacred Host in view of the people for their adoration. At the moment of the elevation the faithful look at the Sacred Host and utter the invocation, "My Lord and my God."

At Mass 'I Will Go In unto the Altar of God,

Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt pronounces the sacred words preceding the reception of Holy Eucharist: "O Lord, I am not worthy that Thou should come to me; say but the word and my soul shall be healed."

Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt, accompanied by acolyte William Theisen, distributes Holy Communion to Alyce Epple, Dennis White, Nancy Courtright, and Pamela Hibberd.

On a feast of the Blessed Virgin, acolyte Daniel Grisdale lights candles on Mary's altar.

unto God Who Giveth Joy to My Youth'

Parish organists, Charlotte Simon, Anne Johnson, Judi Landwehr, and Pamela Hibberd, provide the sacred music for High Masses offered daily.

Lay participation in the Liturgy is greatly desired, chiefly during the Mass.

Foremost participants are the acolytes who serve in the sanctuary unselfishly and faithfully.

The organists give a service which is a connecting link between the people and the altar.

The formation of the Christian soul in youth is achieved through the daily religious instruction imparted by the assistant pastors of Sacred Heart, Reverend John McDuffee and Reverend Raymond Moeggenberg.

Students are fitted for living with God as its focal point. To achieve this they are given every opportunity for daily participation in the liturgy and frequent reception of the sacraments under the new rules. Priests moderate sodality groups, conduct discussion groups, and are always ready to give counsel.

Priests are most aware of the needs for a spiritualized youth in a world today which has lost sight of spiritual values in its race for material goals. Priests point the way to the fullest Christian living.

For a better understanding of the Sacraments Reverend John McDuffee demonstrates the administration of Extreme Unction to Robert Harris in the senior Religion class and David DuHamel is an interested spectator.

Priests Inculcate Sound Christian Doctrine

Freshman Religion instructor Reverend Raymond Moeggenberg follows Michael South's Biblical report.

Muskegon Catholic Central students Michael Buckley, Diana Bassett, Barbara Petrak, and Tony Derezinski with their moderator, Reverend Louis B. La Pres discuss their newly-adopted Code of Conduct for the benefit of interested parents and Academy high school students.

CATHOLIC YOUTH WEEK

OCT. 25 | NOV. 1

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF CATHOLIC YOUTH WASHINGTON, D. C.

Seniors Robert Harris and Linda Hartman read scripts on Catholic Youth Week radio broadcast with announcer Mr. Lou Williams (center).

Students Become Co-Workers with Christ

Students of Sacred Heart participated in the annual Catholic Youth Week, from Oct. 25 to Nov. 1.

The theme of Catholic Youth Week, "Spiritualize Youth — Vitalize Nations," was emphasized in a broadcast by Academy students over WCEN, local radio station. Mr. Lou Williams conducted an interview with Linda Hartman and Robert Harris, who discussed the importance of the National Council of Catholic Youth.

The Boys' Glee Club sang two appropriate selections, "One Little Candle," and a fall hunting song, "John Peel."

A mixed a cappella choir led by Pauline Campbell and Joanne Ege carol through all the halls during the school Christmas parties.

Class presidents John Simpson, Karen Hackett, Linda Rondy, and Daniel Codden present Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt the students' Christmas gift.

Christmas is a time of universal joy, love, and brotherhood, which Academy students express in appropriate ways.

The high school pupils carol to raise funds for needy families at home and abroad.

The glee club carols through the halls and announces the glad tidings of the Christmastide.

The entire student body gratefully presents gifts to Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt and the assistant priests.

Sister Agnes Leo adds a finishing touch to the office Advent wreath.

Students Celebrate the Birthday of Christ

Mrs. G. Campbell, Mrs. C. Theisen, Mrs. J. Svoke, and Mrs. G. Scheid, mothers of high school students, serve doughnuts and hot chocolate to the carolers.

Out in front, Connie Theisen, William Rush, Carolyn McKenna, Melvin Gillis, and Warren Smith lead the jubilant seniors, cheering over their third caroling success.

Sodality Prefect William Rush crowns Mary Queen of May during the annual crowning ceremonies, while secretary Mary Ellen Dionese, co-prefect Karen Campbell, and treasurer Sharon Hackett assist.

and Crown His Mother Their Queen of the May

"To Jesus through Mary" is the motto of the sodality. The principal goal of all sodalists is to possess the likeness of Mary, youth's heavenly mother, in their hearts.

To show their love for the Mother of God, sodalists reverently crown her as Queen of the May and recite frequently the Rosary.

Students John Simpson, David Moore, Dennis White, Michael McNally, William Theisen, William Rush, Karen Campbell, Alyce Epple, Ruth McDonald, Joyce Rogers, Nancy Gutka, Joanne Ege, Catherine Ottney, and Mary Kowallic recite the Rosary during the 1959 May Crowning ceremonies.

Physicists John Simpson, Alyce Epple, Pauline Campbell, and Victor Myers learn about the production of static electricity by watching the genatron work.

To probe the mysteries of a complex world
 And wisely use the power thrust into man's hands;
 To live securely in a changing world
 And grasp each challenging opportunity;
 To appreciate and enjoy the fine arts
 And communicate precisely and clearly.

Nancy Gutka, Mary Kowallic, and Nancy Dent peruse and discuss the latest publications in the school library.

Youth Study Together

Senior English students, Robert Lopez, Melvin Gillis (STANDING), and Elizabeth Packard, listen to a popular recording of Macbeth by professionals.

Literature has a quality of universality. It holds the rich traditions of all ages, both contemporary and classical.

The English curriculum includes training in the fields of speech and journalism. These communication arts give an outlet for talents in composition and oral delivery.

To complement English courses, a study of the Latin language and literature enriches the student's vocabulary and acquaints him with the ancient culture of Rome.

Communication Arts Promote Personal Growth

Freshman Charles Grisdale and seniors David DuHamel and Cedric Brown find many library facilities, such as reference books, Reader's Guide, and up-to-date magazines and publications, helpful in doing research.

Joseph Sweeney, Patrick Murphy, Anne Johnson, Rochelle Heintz, and Catherine Epple participate in a panel discussion in English III.

Language Improves Mastery of Basic Skills

Second year Latin students, Mary Bayer, Daniel Codden, and Mary Brown, illustrate uses of the subjunctive at the board.

Freshmen Jodi Theisen, James Gruss, Jed Wolcott, and Margaret Fabiano find that Latin declensions are fun when studied from a chart.

Catherine Ottney discusses the humor column with co-editors Pamela Hibberd and Suzanne Fortino.

In a fast-moving world with rapidly changing ideals, the Academy Chronicle keeps pace. New goals set this year include timeliness of editions, improvement of editorial policy, and attractive layouts.

Co-editors Pamela Hibberd and Suzanne Fortino along with a hard-working staff are kept busy collecting fresh news to make the paper more interesting. The Chronicle is a tie between home and school, keeping parents as well as students informed of various happenings.

Academy Chronicle Aims for Higher Standards

Junior journalists Rosemary Cashen, Suzanne Powell, and Karen Voisin study front page headlines and layouts of various newspapers.

Karen Campbell reports progress on the ad-campaign to co-editors Linda Hartman and Charlotte Simon.

All-American and All-Catholic, highest critical yearbook ratings, are honors sought and achieved by Cor Jesu staffs.

These honors challenge staffs to plan and execute a yearbook of distinction, one that is satisfactory to critics and students alike. Such a book must be superior in its photography, its copy, and its layouts.

The 1960 Cor Jesu staff, under the co-editorship of Linda Hartman and Charlotte Simon have worked hard and consistently to maintain superior qualities of yearbook editing.

Cor Jesu Receives Three 'All' Critical Ratings

An important trio, Nancy Courtright, Joanne Ege, and Pauline Campbell, perform last minute jobs to meet a Cor Jesu deadline.

Chemistry students Lawrence Campbell, Nancy Gutka, and Nancy Dent calculate the percentage of oxygen in the air.

Science Furnishes Intellectual Challenge

The world is in an everchanging state and it falls to the lot of its young citizens and scientists to meet these changes.

The youth of the Academy are offered modern and fundamental courses in the sciences of biology, chemistry, and physics. The subject matter ranges from the study of botany, zoology, and human anatomy to the principles of chemical and physical changes and provides a familiar acquaintance with scientific language.

Physicists Theodore Mattonen, William Rush, and Michael Murphy conduct an experiment to find the density of liquids.

Philip Johnson explains the operation of his oscilloscope to Victor Myers and Ruth McDonald.

Michael Truax, Charles Dibble, and William Natzel view the Biology aquarium, a new addition to our science department.

The need for mathematicians is becoming more and more important as scientists come closer to the mysteries of outer space.

The Academy is doing its share in providing a four-year course in mathematics consisting of General Mathematics, Algebra I and II, Plane and Solid Geometry and Trigonometry. The training in accuracy, concentration, and logical thinking helps the student to prepare for living in a space-conscious world.

Charlotte Simon and William Rush solve a problem in higher mathematics.

Mathematics Demands Accuracy and Precision

Carol Hart bisects a line segment and (STANDING) Sharon Goffnett, (SEATED) Joanne Epple, Margaret Theisen, Sue Beltinck, Eugene Theisen, and Margaret McNally watch.

Joseph Svoke and Michael Truax explore life under the microscope and James Schmalbach records the data.

Betty McDonald solves an equation in Algebra II class as Charles McDonald observes.

Junior Patricia Welniak reads her outline of the Civil War and other American History students, Lucinda Fletcher, Emily Smiley, and Charles Sutherland, check her data.

History is a study of humanity in all lands and ages.

A study of the contributions of ancient civilizations increases understanding of present day achievements.

Knowledge of great American historical events gives significance to the goals and freedoms preserved in a democracy today.

Social Studies Define Man's Rights and Duties

Mr. S. R. Ostler, Field Representative of the Social Security District Office, Saginaw, explains the Social Security program to seniors.

In the field of business, accuracy and speed are qualities sought in stenographers, typists, and accountants.

Commercial students strive for high standards of performance in Stenography I and II, Typewriting I and II, and Business Accounting. They are prepared to meet the challenge of increasing competition in the world of commerce.

A business career is a worthy one demanding competency and responsible leadership in those who embrace it.

Future stenographers take dictation from Sister M. Theophane. ROW 1: Shirley Murphy, Sharon Timmer, Joyce Rogers. ROW 2: Joanne Ege, Oneita Schafer, Teresa Wejrowski.

Acquiring skills in typing are Oneita Schafer, Shirley Murphy, Joyce Rogers, Cedric Brown, Carolyn McKenna, Sue Slack, and Warren Smith.

Senior typists, Catherine Ottney and Joan Beck, strive for accuracy.

On his feast day Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt accepts from student council president Robert Harris a bouquet and purse from the entire student body.

To promote the brotherhood of man
In the community, nation, and world of nations;
To develop abilities and leadership,
And practice justice and charity towards all;
To plan and execute activities
And preserve a Christian culture.

Queen Ruth McDonald, Dick O'Sullivan, Suzanne Fortino and Melvin Gillis dance away a Homecoming evening.

Youth Work Together

Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt receives roses, a purse, and spiritual bouquet from the students presented by Robert Harris and Lynette Bowers.

On the Feast of St. Edward, Oct. 13, the students of Sacred Heart Academy presented a variety program to honor Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt on the occasion of his feast day.

The Academy band opened the program with "Here Comes the Parade," "Indian Princess," and "The Thunder" under the direction of Don Warnaar. An address of welcome to Monsignor was delivered by Robert Harris. Fourth graders presented "Our Heroes," among whom Monsignor is the greatest. The Boys' Glee Club sang "One Little Candle" and "John Peel." Ninth and tenth graders performed in dances under the direction of Mrs. T. Williams. Girls' a cappella choir sang "The Miller's Wooing" and the Senior Mixed Choir sang "Well Anyway." The Second Graders presented a playlet "The Secret," the secret of which was a golden chalice holding the prayers of the students.

Monsignor's Feast Day Is First Fall Event

Sister Camilla's fourth graders present in recitation and song, "Our Heroes" for the entertainment of Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt, faculty members, and students at a program honoring Monsignor on Oct. 13.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt congratulates second-grader Margo Hubbell on winning fifth prize in the Candy Drive, sponsored by the Student Council for the installment of a modern public address system for the school. Other winners are: Jed Wolcott, second, Connie Theisen, fourth, Charles Adams, first, and James Hayden, third, missing from the picture.

Cor Jesu ad campaign, sponsored by the seniors, is well underway and business manager Karen Campbell receives more returns from David Moore.

Students Plunge into Old and New Projects

A big decision faces juniors (STANDING) John Brown, Robert Witte, Maureen Kelly, (SEATED) Mary Ellen Farnan, Mary Jo Slack, examining styles of classrings.

It's half-time and Suzanne Fortino, Vicki Breidenstein, Queen Ruth McDonald, Mary Ellen Dionese, and Jamie Kenney are ready for the presentation ceremonies.

Queen Ruth Reigns over Annual Homecoming

Irish spirit catches fire at the Homecoming pep meeting when the Senior Class and cheerleaders take over and everyone, "faculty and students," cheers for victory.

Sophomore boys James Schmalbach, Jack Voisin, James Kirkey, Spenser Kisby, Robert Heintz, John Devine, Fred Hauck, Joe Svoke, and John Cain race to meet the deadline for the parade.

Mr. Jerry Sheahan, president of the Sacred Heart Athletic Association, crowns Ruth McDonald, Queen of the 1959 Homecoming, surrounded by attendants Mary Ellen Dionese, Suzanne Fortino, Vicki Breidenstein, and Jamie Kenney.

Coronation Ball Climaxes Gay Festivities

Queen Ruth McDonald and her court reigned royally over the 1959 Homecoming festivities at Sacred Heart, Oct. 16-18.

A rousing pep-meeting held in the school gym on Friday afternoon served for the kickoff of the annual event. A bonfire, held Friday night at Island Park, boosted soaring school spirit for the big weekend.

A colorful parade of eight floats wound through the streets of Mt. Pleasant on Saturday. The juniors captured first and third prizes in float competition, and the Freshman Class jubilantly accepted the second prize.

Although the sun shone brightly on Sunday, Irish fans were downcast in spirit over defeat by a tough Bay City St. James 48-0. At halftime a bouquet of roses was presented to Queen Ruth by co-captains David DuHamel and Charles McDonald.

Highlight of the weekend was the Queen's Ball held at the Chieftain Hotel Sunday night. Students, parents, and alumni danced to the music of Don Warnaar and his orchestra.

The crowning of radiant Queen Ruth during the dance by Mr. Jerry Sheahan, president of Sacred Heart Athletic Association, added the final touch to the unforgettable weekend.

"We Auto Win," did win second prize for the freshmen.

Dining royally are Queen Ruth and her court, Vicki Breidenstein, Mary Ellen Dionese, Suzanne Fortino, and Jamie Kenney.

Teresa Wejrowski has just been crowned 1960 Cor Jesu Queen by her father, Mr. Edmund Wejrowski. Attending the queen are Linda Hartman, Oneita Schafer, Catherine Ottney, and Charlotte Simon.

Carolyn McKenna and Warren Smith out-shine American Bandstanders.

Rochelle Heintz sings an old favorite.

Annual Cor Jesu Dance Honors Queen Teresa

It's the Grand March and leading are (FRONT) Teresa Wejrowski, David DuHamel, Catherine Ottney, Melvin Gillis, Mrs. and Mr. Edmund Wejrowski, Oneita Schafer, William Rush, (SECOND ROW) Linda Hartman, Richard Ervin, Mrs. and Mr. Walter Schafer, Karen Springer, Daniel Grisdale, Roberta Duhamel, and Patrick Murphy.

Talented Students Present Variety Program

Sharon Hackett, Rochelle Heintz, and Mary Dionesse pantomime "Back Home In Indiana."

Underclassmen William Nowak, Spenser Kisby, and Richard Witte present an old fashioned jam-session featuring bongo drums, guitar, and piano.

At the annual Junior-Senior Banquet toastmaster Charlotte Simon tells an amusing story enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Phil Marazita, Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. N. Alt, and Father Raymond Moeggenberg.

Junior-Senior Banquet Honors 1959 Graduates

Silver and pink candles, fresh spring flowers, and stately palms turned the church auditorium into a beautiful banquet hall where a dinner and program were given to honor the Class of 1959.

Toastmaster of the program was Charlotte Simon. Toasts to Parents, Faculty, and Pastor were given by Robert Harris, Constance Theisen, and John Hesch.

Nancy Dent, Karen Elliott, Robert Lopez, Pauline Campbell, Victor Myers, and Judy Rogers are caught in pleasant conversation at the start of the banquet.

Mr. Kenneth Marin, Aquinas College, addresses the student body and Home and School Association at the general assembly, which opens the College Day, to acquaint all with the day's program. Mr. James Morris, faculty member and chairman, is seated at the speakers' table.

First College Day Helps Students Plan Careers

The first annual Catholic College Day at Sacred Heart Academy was held Feb. 23. The Home and School Association sponsored the event.

Representatives were present from Borgess School of Nursing, Kalamazoo; Siena Heights, Adrian; University of Detroit, Mercy College and Marygrove College, Detroit; Mercy Central School of Nursing, Aquinas, Grand Rapids; Nazareth College, Kalamazoo; Notre Dame University, Notre Dame, Indiana.

A panel discussion on "The Importance of a Catholic Education" was held in the evening for parents.

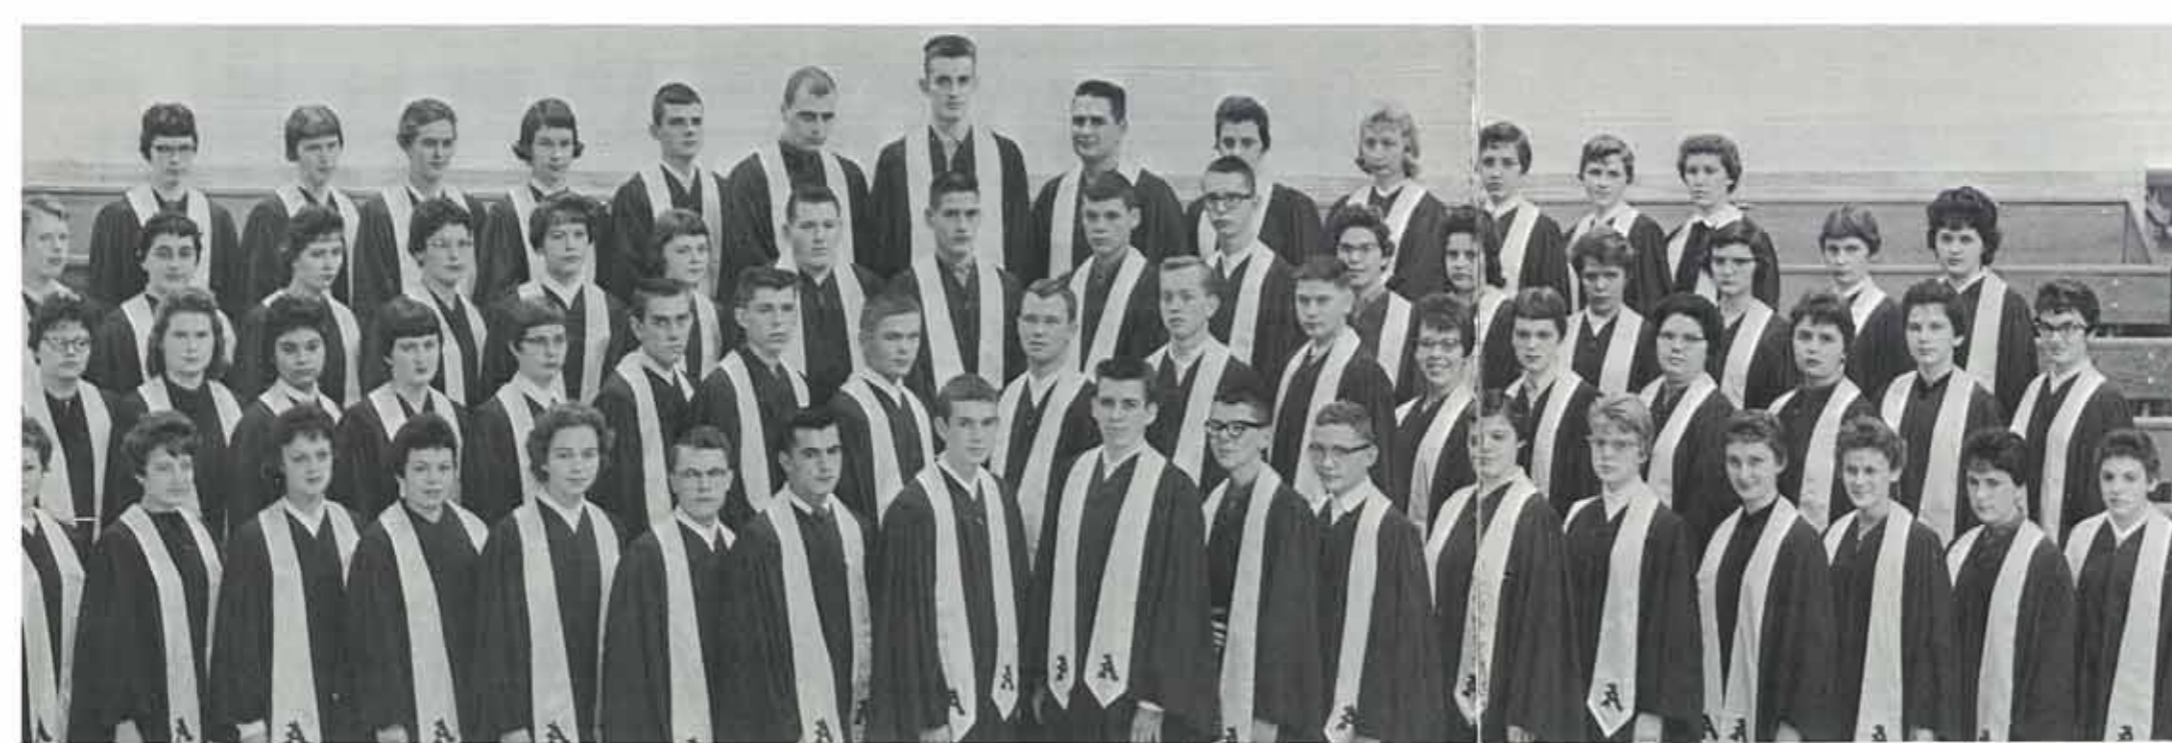

Juniors Joanne Thering, Carol Adams, Rudelle Williams, and Anne Johnson inquire about Aquinas College from Maureen Carey, '58, Aquinas sophomore, and Mr. Kenneth Marin, Aquinas faculty member.

Joseph Breidenstein, Sacred Heart alumnus, tells Paul Fortino and Charles Sutherland about life at Notre Dame. Seniors Lawrence Campbell and David DuHamel listen with interest.

Miss Anne Reynolds answers questions about Mercy School of Nursing asked by Judi Landwehr and Catherine Epple, facing camera.

Under the direction of Sister Mary Henry Suso, O.P., for eight years, the Sacred Heart Academy Choirs provide not only enjoyable entertainment for others, but also musical development for themselves.

The choirs perform for local organizations and sing for liturgical functions.

Each year Forty Hours' devotion, Christmastide, and Holy Week services are celebrated with greater solemnity and dignity as the trained high school choirs sing the centuries-old chants of the Church.

Members of the Librarians' Club, Susan Beltinck, Alice Gunton, Sue Ann Slack, Nancy Courtright, Susan Webster, Julie Beltinck, and Patricia Davis, keep the school library clean and orderly.

Clubs and organizations form a vital part of Academy life. There are several with various goals.

Chief among the groups is the student council which assists in the good order of the school. All classes have representatives on the council.

Other clubs exist to promote good works such as the Librarians' and the Cana Choir. All serve the best interests of the school and students.

Members of a group have a sense of belonging and sharing as they take advantage of the clubs' opportunities. All develop student interests and talents.

The Academy program offers several opportunities to engage in worthwhile competitive contests. Some of these are the TB Speaking Project, Debate, Spring Forensics, Girls' and Boys' State, Merit Scholarship, Mathematics, and Science Fairs.

Students who take advantage of these competitive activities are rewarded with personal advancement and often high honors. They are afforded occasions to meet other students and share accomplishments.

Mr. James Morris announces the top three winners from finalists Judi Landwehr, Roberta DuHamel, Karen Hackett, Rudelle Williams, Suzanne Powell, Mary Theisen, and Catherine Epple, in the TB Speaking Contest.

Unexpected Victories Thrill Academy Fans

Although the 1959 Irish football team had an average 3—5 season, the Academy fans received their share of thrills in last minute victories and inspired playing against favored teams.

The Acads, defending Valley Parochial League champions, lacked the man power of the two previous years, and were injury-laden throughout the season.

The first Irish contest was with Shepherd at Alumni Field, where the favored Blue Jays carried off a 33—0 victory.

The Acad's second game and first VPL with Saginaw St. Mary will always be remembered as the game the Irish won in the last second of play by a score of 19—13.

The following week the Irish lost their second game to Bay City St. Joseph 7—6, first league loss in two years.

Then Sacred Heart rallied, however, and defeated Essexville St. John 19—12.

The Homecoming game was a heartbreaker when the Irish were held scoreless 46—0 by Bay City St. James.

Next the Acads traveled to Bay City and played the best game of the season but not good enough to defeat St. Mary's, who scored in the last 2 minutes of play to win 6—0.

In their final VPL game, the Irish unleashed their power on Saginaw Holy Rosary, and walked away victorious 50—6.

The last game of the season was played with a powerful Clare team, who defeated the Irish 53—14.

Irish playing their last season were seniors Dave DuHamel, Jim Horvath, Joe Dick, Philip Johnson, Melvin Gillis, John Simpson, Tim Grisdale, Bob Harris, and junior Chuck McDonald.

Cagers Finish Conference in Second Place, 7-3

The Irish cagers, strength depleted by the '59 exodus of lettermen, strove to retain the Valley Parochial Championship a third successive year but finished in second place in the conference with a 7-3 record. A powerful Saginaw St. Mary team won the VPL trophy. The all-season Academy record was 9-7.

Joe Sweeney and Jim Fabiano hit the jackpot when the Irish defeated Bay City St. Joseph Feb. 19, 62-60. Jim tallied a total of 23 points and Joe collected 16.

Junior Jim Fabiano figured in the top scoring column for the second year by leading the Acads with 220 points and a 16.9 average for the regular season. Sophomore Bob Ososki came in next with 140 points.

Phil Johnson and Joe Sweeney controlled the backboards for the Irish with a total of 479 rebounds between them. The total rebounds for the season were 675 for opponents as compared to 490 for the Sacred Heart cagemen.

The Academy scored 917 Points while opponents scored only 812 points.

Graduating players are Larry Campbell, Phil Johnson, and Bill Rush. Returning lettermen are Jim Fabiano, Paul Fortino, Bob Goffnett, Joe Horgan, Tom Horgan, Bob Ososki, and Rob Witte.

John Hesch lays down a bunt.

Jim Epple slides home safe.

The 1959 Irish baseball team made history when it compiled an over-all 12—1 season record to capture the first Mt. Pleasant Invitational Championship.

Coach John Hartsig's powerful nine had little difficulty winning its twelve games. The team's single loss was to Clare 8—5.

The Mt. Pleasant Invitational Champions' Tournament was won in fine style by defeating Breckenridge, Houghton Lake, Shepherd, Farwell, Beal City, and Hemlock.

Ty McConnell led the pitching with a 7—0 record. Jim Fabiano, John Devine, and Jim Epple also had fine pitching records.

The Most Valuable Player Award was captured by Ty McConnell. Those receiving honorable mention were Jim Epple, Jim Fox, and Tim Grisdale.

Captain of the 1959 season was Ty McConnell whose batting average was .448.

The only one to top Ty's average was Tim Grisdale with .571. Jim Fox also had a high batting average of .412.

1959 Cindermen Break Two Academy Records

Paul Fortino takes a low hurdle.

Coach Phil Marazita's Irish thinclads turned out a good season in 1959 and broke two previous individual SHA records. The Acads placed second in the Conference Meet, eighth in the Regional Meet, and qualified two for the State Meet at CMU.

Two new school records were made at the Conference Meet May 9 when Jim Fox broke the 440-yard dash record of :56.5 made in 1940 with the new time of :55.4, and Joe Sweeney set the new record for the Mile to 4:56.5 which topped the 1955 record of 5:07. The boys qualified for the State Finals held at Alumni Field May 23, Jim, in the 440-yard dash and Joe, in the 880-yard run.

Captain of the 1959 thinclads was Dick Fabiano who was elected the Most Valuable Player with 77 points accumulated.

Those who received honorable mention for Most Valuable Player Award were Joe Sweeney, Jim Fox, and Jim Epple.

Major Awards were earned by Bob Connors, Dave DuHamel, Jim Epple, Jim Fox, Phil Johnson, Spenser Kisby, Joe Sweeney, Bill Theisen, Dave Underwood, and Bob Underwood.

Minor Award winners were Dan Codden, Bob Goffnett, Jim Schmalbach, Charles Sutherland, Joe Svoke, Gene Theisen, and Mike Truax.

The 1960 COR JESU staff has attempted to present the story of Academy youth engaged in activities that promote spiritual, intellectual, social, and physical development . . . TOWARD A BETTER WORLD. To accomplish this goal, the staff relied extensively on the guidance and assistance of others. It gratefully acknowledges the interest, time, and financial support of the following:

Sister Agnes Leo, O.P., principal
Sister Edward Aloysius, O.P., staff adviser
Mr. Del Conkright, school photographer
Mr. Norris Ingells and
Mr. Robert Gross of the Daily-Times News
The American Yearbook Company, publishers
And all patrons and others who made this book possible.
