

COR JESU

1961
Volume VX
Sacred Heart Academy
Mt. Pleasant, Michigan

"But I have promises to keep
And miles to go before I sleep
And miles to go before I sleep."

These closing lines of Robert Frost's poem express very well our thoughts on leaving Sacred Heart Academy. We are, as were the sixty-three classes before us, keenly aware of our promises to God, to our fellowmen and to ourselves.

We present in this volume of COR JESU those under whose guidance, and those in whose company we have prepared for the long miles and many years ahead before we sleep.

To the Sacred Heart of Jesus,
the Way, the Truth, and the Life,
we dedicate the Cor Jesu, humbly asking his blessing and company on the journey ahead.

Monsignor, Aided By Assistants,

THE RIGHT REVEREND MONSIGNOR EDWARD
N. ALT, PASTOR OF SACRED HEART PARISH.

Instills Religious Devotion For Life's Journey.

Father Dautremont, who arrived this year from Rome, is shown performing one of his many tasks, that of teaching religion classes to S.H.A. students.

Father King, also pastor of St. Leo's parish in Winn, finds time to lend a helping hand at S.H.A. by leading religious services and teaching grade school catechism.

Dan Codden, Spense Kisby, Tom Horgan, Bob Heintz, Monsignor Alt, Rick Witte, James Schmalbach, and Gene Theisen.

Sister Mary Agatha, principal and English instructor; and Mrs. Patricia Davis, secretary.

Mrs. Ellen Maxwell, Latin instructor; and Mrs. Paul Winger, developmental reading instructor.

Sister M. Lamberta, mathematics instructor; and Sister M. Faith, science instructor.

Instructors, Religious and Lay,

Prepare Us to Teach Ourselves

Miss Agnes Murphy, assistant librarian; and Sister M. Celine, librarian and commercial instructor.

Sister M. Alicia and Mr. Lynette, Freshman advisors and social science teachers.

Mr. James Morris, Junior advisor and social science instructor; and Sister Ann Lucille, Senior advisor and English instructor.

Sister Henry Suzo, Music Instructor; Sister Marie Caroline, Assistant Music Instructor

Mr. Warner, Band Instructor

Curriculum Culture

Student Responsibility

Officer Kostrzewa of the Mt. Pleasant, Police Post confers with Student Civil Defense officers Dan Cadden, Mike Truox, Spenser Kisby, Jim Sweeney and James Hayden

Cecilia Neff, Evelyn Connors, Jean McEvoy, Esther Spitsberven, Jerry Sheredy, our hot lunch staff.

Mrs. McEvoy, head of lunch program.

We extend a special expression of gratitude to the ladies who prepare hot lunch for our students every day.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin, our custodians, rate a "thank you" too. A warm, clean building and well kept grounds are the results of their efforts.

Religion

"But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go . . ."

At last we find that the road has widened and the world is made more visible to us. We have become aware of the many responsibilities that we must carry throughout life. But, like a wise traveler, we have prepared ourselves for the journey. We could wish for no better assurance of a joyful arrival than a firm foundation of religious security. Along the road we will meet failure and disappointments, but the guideposts of our religion will point the way. And, should we become too tired to continue, we may pause and rest at the altar of God.

FORTY HOURS DEVOTION

Academy students worship God publicly in the Forty Hour devotion, or privately, as does Mary Nan Cain, in quiet visits to the Infant and His Mother.

ALTAR BOYS

Junior. . . .

James Sweeney, Michael Voisin, Richard Nolan, William Nowak, with Father Charles Deautremont.

Freshman. . . .

John Campbell, Patrick Rogers, John Cotter, Kenneth Slater, Kane Fletcher, Tomas Milan, Jeffery Heintz, James Kenny, with Monsignor Alt and James Schmalbach rehearse a procession.

Sophomore. . . .

John Downing, Frederick Schall, John Tope and William Courtright assist Father Charles Deautremont during a High Mass.

Joy To The World,

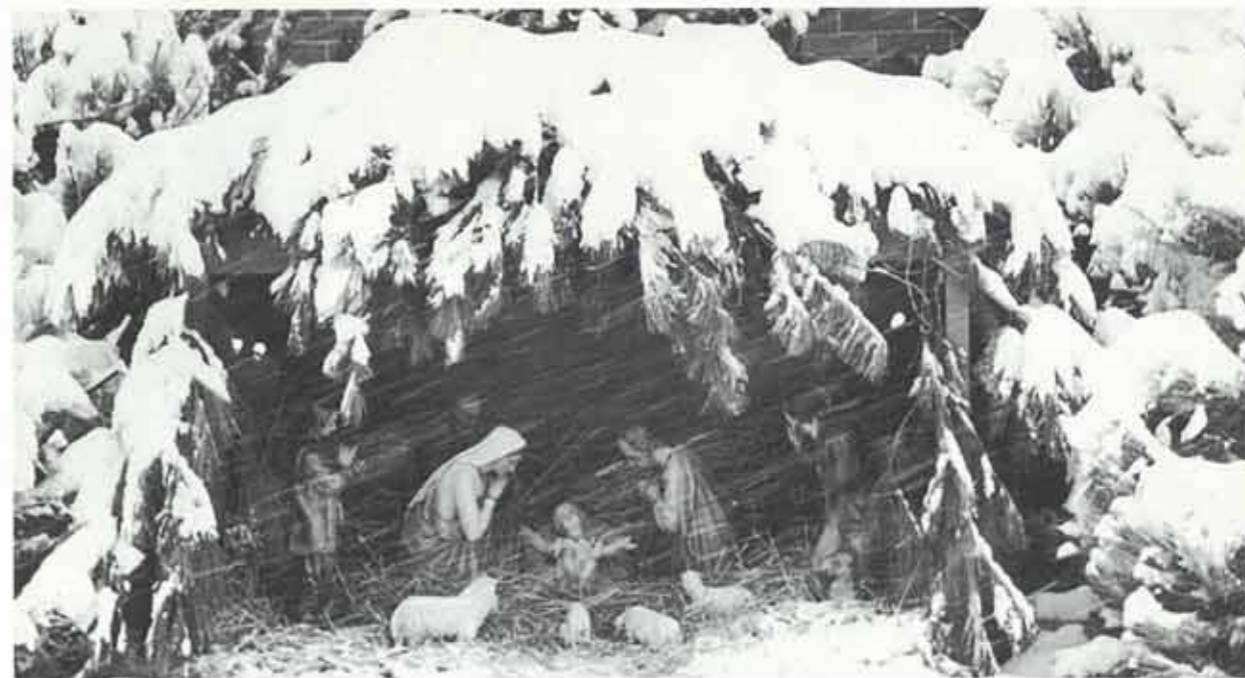

Jeff Heintz, Steve Duriga, Laura Davis, Mary Ann Sweeney, Helen Fox, and Spenser Kisby, present wreaths for blessing.

The Lord Is Come!

"The hopes and fears of all the years are met with thee tonight."

The Christmas season began with the blessing of the Advent wreaths. Representatives from each homeroom presented them to Father Dautremont in a special ceremony.

As the great feast approached, excitement reaching a high point in the Mission Fund caroling. The sophomores won in keen competition with the juniors. Alaskan Missions and Mexican Apostolates received the money collected by all classes.

The senior boys erected the Christmas crib in front of the convent. This small creche mirrored the miracle of Midnight Mass.

Father Howard Ralenkotter, C.P., Retreat Master with Juniors—Joseph Cochran, Margaret Fabiano, and Ronald Ervin pause momentarily for a private conference.

THAT WE MAY ASPIRE

Through his inspirational lectures, Father enriched the minds of the students, and through humorous presentation, brought out the importance of moral obligation. Notes were taken—and kept.

James Sweeney leads the "Missa Recitata", reading the Epistle and Gospel in English.

TO GREATER HEIGHTS

This year in accordance with our Holy Father's wish, the dialogue Mass alternates with the sung Mass. Opportunities for frequent Confession and Communion are offered daily.

SODALITY OF OUR LADY

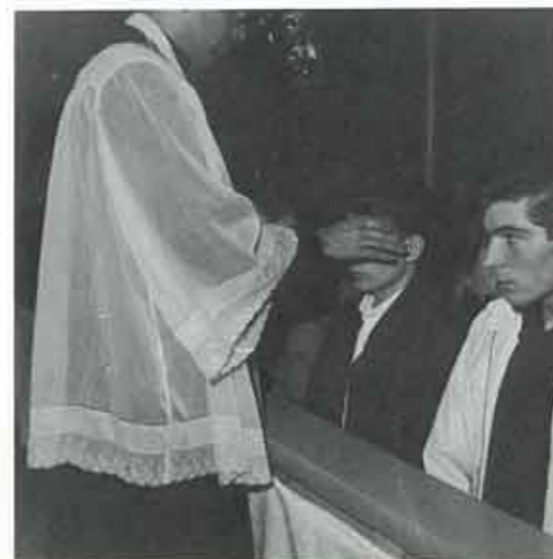

The high point of the May devotions is the crowning of Our Lady. Prefect Carol Cotter receives the crown from Kathy Heintz. Ruth Ann Glover, Eugene Theisen, and Robert Heintz assist.

Sodality members visit the State Home and Training School weekly where they give religious instructions to the patients.

After the period at the State Home, Sodalists hold their weekly meetings.

WE Adore Thee, oh Christ . . .

With the words "Remember, man that thou art dust . . ." Academy students enter the short mile of Lent, remembering, too, that the miles they have to go in life, before the brief sleep until Easter, will very often be Lent.

The 11:05 Mass brings the day to a climax. The expressions on these faces indicate that the juniors, as usual, are early.

Monsignor Alt holds special classes with Seniors on parish problems.

Day-after-day, year-in and year-out Academy students are surrounded by an atmosphere of the Ideal. These ideals are a foundation for his growth as a purposeful human being.

Many graduates attend Central Michigan University and become affiliated with its Newman Club.

The first of the '62 graduation class to find her place in God's plan is Katherine Thompson who became Sister Teresa Helen in The Dominican Order at Adrian.

Dominican Sisters: Sister Paulette, Sister Marie Carolyn, Sister Mary Agatha, Sister Therse Helene, and Sister Mary Celine.

Academic

"But I have promises to keep
And miles to go before I sleep . . ."

There are promises we must keep to ourselves — as well as our promises to God and to our fellow men. In these years in school we have earnestly tried to develop our talents by the discipline of study and learning. We know that by developing these talents we please God, serve our fellow man and fulfill ourselves.

Jessica Hartman and John Tape are the Sacred Heart Academy's Glee Club's accompanists.

The year 1961-62 was an eventful one for Academy Glee Club. In October they sang by invitation for the Michigan Classical Association at Central Michigan University. Then in December they presented two concerts; one for the Catholic Daughters and the second for the annual Christmas student assembly.

The club sang the opening Mass for Forty Hours and also sang the closing ceremony. In April they participated in the Music Festival held in Arthur Hill Auditorium in Saginaw. They were featured also in a graduation recital in the spring and performed for Class Night in June.

Juniors Roy Hauck, Sharon BeMent, Mary St. Germaine, and Mary Peltier make use of the facilities at the Mt. Pleasant Public Library. Academy students do much of their research here.

Academy students also do a big share of their homework and studying in quiet, peaceful study halls such as this one in room 206-207 during the 6th period.

Social Activities

"But I have promises to keep
And miles of go

The primary purpose of any school is the education of students academically, in great part by superiors. In this learning process, however, there is a social aspect. We learn from each other. We must travel a great distance before we reach our final goal, and on this journey many friendships are formed that last forever; many that are of a casual nature which contrast with the deeply rooted affection for our close friends. But by all social contact we learn to understand and adjust to people of various types of character. We learn to work with them to accomplish worthwhile goals.

Athletics

But I have promises to keep

And miles to go. . . .

The purpose of any educational system is to build men spiritually, intellectually and physically. It has been said the battles of life are won or lost on the field of honor whether it be the football field, the basket ball court, the baseball diamond (or in the arena of the heart).

It is the purpose of the Academy Athletic program to build the character, quicken the mind, and strengthen the bodies of the young men and women who must be leaders in the years to come.

"When the great Score Keeper
Comes to tally your name,
He writes not that you won or lost,
But how you played the game."

COACH JIM LYNETT

NEW COACHES SPARK IRISH TO VICTORY

COACH DICK ADAMS

Two new coaches have gotten the Academy back on the road to victory. Coach Jim Lynett, formerly of Beal City High, and Coach Dick Adams teamed up to put a new brand of ball on the field for the "Reds" this year.

The Blue Jays of Shepherd were surprised to see the power and varied offensive which nearly upset them in the second half of that opening duel. Here we became branded as a "second-half" team and remained thus for the rest of the season. Quarterback Jim Youngs did manage, however, to put across three touchdowns in the first half of the Bay City St. James, St. Mary, and Visitation games.

On October 21, the Edmore Panthers, the team that humiliated the Academy with a 56-6 defeat last season, fell before the gang-tackling, high-spirited "Fighting Irish" who were determined to pull the rug out from under Edmore and give the Homecoming crowd something to go home and talk about.

VARSITY SQUAD. 1st row: J. Horgan, J. Cochran, R. Witte, B. Goffnett, J. Hayden, M. Taux, T. Horgan. 2nd row: R. Nowland, J. Hammond, J. Youngs, K. Neyer, D. Thering, B. Heintz, B. Foldesi, R. Ervin, B. Natzel. 3rd row: B. Collins, T. Bunting, C. Grisdale, J. Bowman, G. Theisen, S. Kisby, R. Hauck, B. Novak.

Bob Heintz gets a block from another Irishman, but from Saint James. "Nice block, Fellal!"

Among the outstanding gridgers at SHA this season were the seniors. Center Bob Goffnett, guard Rick Witte, Tom Horgan and "Baby" Joe Cochran provided the mainstays of the highly lauded defensive line. Spense Kisby and Gene Heisen, two of the lankier seniors, did outstanding jobs at the defensive end and back spots; Bob Heintz and Ken Neyer joined with Quarterback Jim Youngs and Full-back Don Thering to make a pile driving offensive backfield. The team will be losing 11 seniors, 9 of them were starters.

The Cheerleading squads for 1961 and 62 have done much to enliven the forgotten school spirit at S.H.A. Captain Ginger Shied of the Varsity Squad has initiated pep meetings, pep clubs, and gimmicks to use at the games. The J.V. Squad were the bunch, however, that began the school spirit ball rolling. Headed by captain Carol Silvernail the perkey crew speeded up cheers and had new cheers for every game. The Varsity followed suit and now The Academy is building school spirit and feeling back to where it should be. Three Cheers for the Cheerleading Squads!

It's homecoming and the "Peppy Six" relax in Tina's convertible before the game.

Academy Classes

There are four years in the life of an Academy student, which, perhaps more than any others, are essential in the development of intellectual, social, and moral talents.

Throughout his years in high school the student receives thorough instructions and sympathetic, though sometimes stern understanding from his teachers and advisors. He experiences the pride of accomplishment, the rewards of fulfilled obligations and the warmth of friendships. These years are memorable for they are the last in the formative period of his personality and character. From this foundation an Academy student receives strength and a sense of purpose that will sustain him through life.

Valedictory

With these closing pages the class of '62 says "salve" to a new world of adult life, and "vaie" to wonderful, sheltered years of growth in wisdom and grace here at Sacred Heart Academy. We carry with us many memories to be cherished throughout life; and, fortified with Mary's rosary, God's blessing, the good wishes of our loved ones, we take our leave.
