Nate: "Are you sure your handwriting looks just like my Mom's?"

Chris: (signs the permission slip): "Yep, I'm sure."

Hillary (thinks): She better not get into my Myspace page.

Lauren(thinks): She thinks she has a better Myspace page than me.

Ben(thinks): I thought we weren't supposed to be on Myspace.

Alex: (closes out of Bubble Trouble quickly): "Yes, I am finding a lot of good research material for my English paper."

Chad(thinks): I wonder if the Morning Sun got a good picture of me throwing that touchdown pass.
James(wonders): I have nothing in common with Harry Potter.

Paul(thinks): If I don't get my orange juice soon, I might just spaz out.

Cara(thinks): I am thinking of changing my artist name to C-Dogg.

Jamisen(thinks): I wonder if I will make it on Broadway.

Lee(thinks): I can't believe I am stuck in a picture with these two weirdos.

Close Up

Seven sophomores traveled to Washington, D.C. to participate in the week long Classic Close Up Program. While in D.C. they visited the many memorials, monuments, and museums. They prepared for and participated in Capitol Hill Day, which enabled them to tour the Capitol, meet with Congressman Camp and Senator Stabenow, attend committee meetings, and witness floor debate. They met students from Nebraska, Hawaii, Illinois, Montana, Minnesota, and North Dakota. They visited the White House and Lafayette Park as part of their neighborhood tour. They also visited the ESPN Zone, International Spy Museum, and Arlington National Cemetery on their independent time. While on program they learned about government and participating in democracy.
